British Election Seen in Spring

LONDON (Reuters)—Many British politicians see growing signs that the Conservative government is preparing for a general election between March and June.

They believe that if the economy maintains its present strength the government will make its bid for a third successive term.

POLICE BATTLE PACIFISTS AT SECRET MISSILE BASE

They're Happy About It, Anyway!

First snow of the season brought Victoria youngsters on the run yesterday to enjoy the rare opportunity for winter sport. Snowmen appeared like magic, sleighs with rusty runners got a work-out, and as many snowballs as the two-inch fall supplied material for were soon filling the air. Boy with sled at Belmont Park is Pierre Benien, seven, and boy behind snowball is David Butler, 12, of 404 Craigflower. Continued cold and more snow (see story page 17) are in prospect.—(Colonist photos.)

Peronist Plotters Put Down

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A small group of supporters of Juan Peron tried unsuccessfully to take over a cavalry regiment in Entre Rios Province.

The attempted coup was put down by sentries at the regiment's station.

The captured leader of the group took part in an abortive Peronist uprising in 1956.

Women Seized By Hair

SWAFFHAM, England (AP)—A band of pacifists swarmed into a secret missile base Saturday but were driven out by British police in a battle around a cement mixer.

Women were seized by the hair and shoved into a ditch. The men were pushed from the site by squads of civil and Royal Air Force police.

The incident started as a so-called non-violent demonstration against the base at nearby North Pickenham. The RAF is setting up a base there to install American-supplied Thor missiles.

The demonstration was organized by a body known as the Direct Action Committee Against Nuclear War. It came a few hours after the Communist Daily Worker carried a story pinpointing a number of missile bases being built along the east coast of England.

CAME IN RUSSIES

The demonstrators rode up from London in buses and marched off to the North Pickenham base.

An advance guard of about 50 men and women tossed planks over a barbed wire barricade and tramped across.

They made for a cement mixer 300 yards inside the wire with the intention of staging a peaceful demonstration to hold up construction work.

Trouble began when they squatted down in front of a truck moving away from the cement mixer. The driver inched forward until the wheels were touching some of the demonstrators.

TOSSED INTO DITCH

Then a group of laborers rushed up and pitched into the demonstrators.

They seized the intruders, men and women, and tossed them into a nearby ditch filled with mud and cement. As the battle stepped up, RAF police dashed across to help, and finally civilian police moved in to end the battle.

Tanks Ready For Blockade

WASHINGTON (AP)—A military publication says the U.S. Army in Berlin readied a tank and infantry force to free three U.S. trucks stopped by the Russians at a border checkpoint last Nov. 14.

Destruction Due Today

Moon Probe Earth Bound

WASHINGTON (AP)—The moon probe Pioneer III Saturday night started plunging back toward earth and fiery destruction in the atmosphere after soaring 65,000 miles into space.

The end of the Army's space shoot at the sun and the moon was expected about 2:15 this afternoon over northwest Africa in the general vicinity of Timbuktu.

The rocket never got up quite enough speed to escape earth's gravitational field, approach and report on the moon and soar into far space.

It did not even equal the 71,300 mile distance achieved by the Air Force Pioneer launched Oct. 11. Space officials nevertheless termed it far from a failure, saying information about the mysterious and deadly zone of radiation surrounding the earth would be highly valuable.

At 9 p.m. EST, some 20 hours after a thrilling blastoff of Pioneer III from Cape Canaveral at 12:45 a.m. Saturday, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration plotted the gold-washed package of instruments as turning back earthwards from about 65,000 miles out in space.

Down at Cape Canaveral, an Air Force officer pondered the day's events, not unhappy about the Army's failure.

"If Werner von Braun had put his satellite around the sun on the first try after three Air Force failures to reach the moon, there would have been no living with him," he said.

Von Braun thought a faulty adjustment on a fuel valve might have shortened the burning time of the first stage.

The examination shows a mild degree of fever and he is remaining for a few days' observation and treatment of an inflammatory condition of the lower colon.

"X-ray examination of the gastro-intestinal tract and other pertinent examinations revealed no evidence of any recurrence of the malignancy of two years ago."

Doctors pronounced Dulles in good condition early last month on the second anniversary of his cancer operation.

President Eisenhower has been notified of Dulles' condition, officials said.

Blast Kits Seized

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three model rocket kits which officials said could "blow your head off" were seized by the customs department here Saturday. All three had been sent as Christmas presents for Vancouver boys.

The models, capable of reaching speeds up to 200 miles an hour were seized on instructions of W. B. Paton, regional federal explosives inspector, who said "a premature explosion could blow a person's head or hands off."

"In flight, the model missiles could drive right through the human body,"

Dulles in Hospital

'Inflammatory Lower Colon'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles entered Walter Reed Army Hospital Friday night for observation of what doctors diagnosed as "an inflammatory condition of the lower colon."

The State Department in announcing this Saturday night said Dulles' doctors thus far have found "no evidence of any recurrence" of the intestinal cancer for which Dulles was operated on two years ago.

Dulles plans to remain in the hospital for two or three days for treatment.

Physicians were said to be giving him "intestinal antisep-tics." He was put on a bland diet.

Only a month ago, on Nov. 3, the 71-year-old Dulles was pronounced in excellent health on the second anniversary of his cancer operation.

The State Department press officer, Lincoln White, told newsmen that Dulles felt "intestinal discomfort" Friday afternoon. He phoned his physician and was advised to come to Walter Reed, where he was operated on previously.

White said Dulles is resting fairly comfortably.

There is no evidence at this time, he added, that another operation will be required.

Dulles expects to leave by plane next weekend as scheduled for Paris, White said. He is due to attend a meeting of the 15-nation North Atlantic Pact Council Dec. 16. In advance of that he has agreed to meet with the British, French and West German foreign ministers in Paris to discuss the Berlin crisis.

The text of the State Department statement on Dulles' condition:

'I Just Can't Get the Things They Want'

Deep in her heart the drawn, brunette mother of three boys hopes for a new dress for Christmas, but she's still excited and curious about the presents her young sons will conjure up.

She knows it won't be a dress—she's almost forgotten what it's like to have new clothes—but she's sure it will be some little trinket made with love and care.

Last Christmas it was a pin-cushion and a tiny red flower planted in a tin can. The mother's brown eyes glisten with pride when she shows off the plant—still growing heartily.

She looks at her drab surroundings and at the boys romping in the corner of the living room. Cries of "momma" occasionally break up the play and the youngest boy, a good-looking five-year-old, runs to his mother for comfort when things get rough.

"The kids don't even remember their father," the mother explains. "He left us three years ago and we've never heard from him since then."

"I've been both a mother and father to them."

"But sometimes it is awfully hard," she says. "Imagine managing on only $140 a month—that's the family allowance and the social assistance."

She pays $42 a month for rent of her three-room apartment in an old weather-beaten duplex. The rest she tries to stretch to meet food, clothes and fuel costs.

"I don't mind so much for myself," the mother says. "If only the boys understood that I can't get them all the things they want."

Their orders for Santa are heart-breakingly expensive: a wagon, ice skates, a football and a bicycle.

"A bicycle!" she exclaimed. "If I bought one we'd starve all winter."

"Now boys," she shouts at the two oldest—eight and nine—"it's about time the potatoes got peeled!"

The mother looks at her sons and tears form in her eyes: "They're so little and I have to tell them all the time they can't have the things their friends have..."

But this year the little boys will be getting at least some presents at Christmas.

Their mother will get money from The Daily Colonist's "500 Christmas Fund" to buy a few "little extras."

It is the "little extras" that add up to a happy Christmas for families like these. This means that every contribution to the Colonist fund buys a measure of happiness.

Donations to the fund, which are deductible for income tax purposes, may be sent or taken to the Colonist's main office at 2631 Douglas, or the downtown office at 1215 Broad.

Little Negro Boy Crushed Lad Gives Life To Save Baby

NEW YORK (AP)—A 14-year-old Negro boy was crushed to death Saturday night as he tossed a two-year-old girl to safety from a defective elevator.

The boy, Stanley Guinn, lived on the seventh floor of a crowded apartment building. When he got on the elevator at that floor, Mrs. Ollie Abram and her daughter, Lydia, 2, and two male tenants were aboard.

The descending car paused at the sixth floor and the door slid back. Then, with the door still open, the elevator began to sink down.

Apparently thinking the car was going to crash down six flights to the bottom of the shaft, young Guinn snatched the child, leaped part way out of the elevator, and shoved her out onto the sixth floor.

He was caught by the roof of the still-descending car and crushed. The elevator, jammed by his body, slowed and came to a stop just above the floor below.

The child was unhurt and the other passengers in the elevator were helped out uninjured.

Police said the boy's body may have saved the others in the elevator from the six-floor drop.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

THIS is the wrong place for a lesson in grammar and punctuation. I am no authority on the subject. However, I feel that somebody should say a word in favor of the quotation mark—a modest little symbol that is not well known as it should be.

The question mark (?) and the exclamation mark (!) are brassier, self-important symbols that can look after themselves.

The comma and the period, or full stop, are suave, well-adjusted symbols. They don't need to shout and fling their arms around.

The bracket is a stubborn recluse that plants itself with its back to the rest of the sentence, and stays there.

But the quotation mark (") is such a shy little symbol, and it comes and goes so quietly, that a lot of people don't even know it is there.

The quotation mark has done a lot of work for me. I have found it to be an unsparing diligent worker. However, it has been shamefully neglected.

Little Marks Overlooked

Today, for example, I received a letter that ran like this:

"Your letter to Mr. Passmore, in Friday's issue of the Colonist is amusing reading; but without sense, rhyme or reason."

"Your thinking is quite Victorian, and in line with that of Alderman Edgell."

In fact I did not write any letter to Mr. Passmore. I did not express any thoughts of my own about amalgamation. However, I did use an open letter from one Edward Nelson.

son, addressed to Mr. Passmore. I pointed out, quite carefully, that I was reproducing someone else's views, I called the quotation mark to help me.

The quotation mark was overlooked once more. It's a shame.

What Edward Nelson said in his letter was that people from other municipalities, who work and shop in the city, should pay for the services they use.

In reply to this point of view, another correspondent says:

Doomed to Toboggan

"Did it ever strike you that some of the city aldermen, inside and outside workers, police and firemen, reside outside the city limits? Unless they make payment of a suitable amount you should have this corrected right away."

"Your city merchants would soon be on the toboggan to bankruptcy should residents of Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt decide to do their shopping in their own districts—which could easily happen."

True enough. Note quotation marks at work, above.

However, there are some facilities in Victoria city, such as Memorial Arena and the Art Gallery, which serve all the surrounding area. Other municipalities should share the expense of such projects.

But the most important question seems to be: would amalgamation be cheaper for all parties in the long run? Some shrewd people believe that it would be cheaper. But further study is needed. That is all the people are being asked to do: give approval for further study.

It's the difference between the open mind and the closed mind.

Third Day of Fraser Swim

Frogman Goes On It's Only 13 Below!

HIJON, B.C. (CP)—The French have a word for the rugged inhabitants of Brittany, where Louis Lormais was born. They call them "teles de bois"—wooden heads.

The term isn't applied because the Bretons are short in grey matter, but rather because they're long in stubbornness.

And Lormais, the Second World War frogman with the French underground, is proving that the title isn't easily earned.

It was 13 degrees below zero here yesterday, with a north wind of 10 miles, when the rubber-suited Lormais strode into the Fraser River and thrashed off south toward Quesnel.

It was his third day in the water in a swim he hopes will take him 600 miles to the Pacific coast. Louis has battled 50 miles including rapids, whirlpools and solid ice in the last two days since leaving Prince George.

Lyons to Address Nature Society

C. P. Lyons, of the parks branch of the B.C. Forest Service, will give an illustrated lecture at a general meeting of the Victoria Natural History Society at 8 p.m. on Tuesday in the Douglas Building cafeteria.

He stopped after only 13 miles yesterday when the boat carrying his wife and companions ran aground, wrecking its motor.

Lormais covered 27 miles Thursday to Stone Creek. His lips were badly swollen. Another 25 miles Friday and his cheeks were puffed and parts of his face were bleeding.

He hopes to prove that frogmen can be used in the industrial development of the province.

The water temperature of the Fraser in this central B.C. region is 32 degrees. If it stopped flowing, it would set solid.

Saanich Slate Opposes Merger

All candidates in the forthcoming Saanich municipal election are against amalgamation with Victoria at least "at the present time."

The five candidates seeking three council seats in the Dec. 11 election outlined their platforms yesterday.

Gregory C. Cook, manual arts teacher and unsuccessful candidate in previous Saanich elections, said amalgamation at the present time "doesn't seem right. However, I do think the five districts (Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich, Esquimalt and View Royal) should do all they can to work together."

He would also like to see a municipal manager appointed who has experienced municipal growth "such as Saanich is undergoing."

A veteran councillor of 19 years, George Austin, stated he was definitely opposed to amalgamation.

Harold Todd, a postal employee, also against amalgamation, said if "we amalgamate with the city, increased taxation will follow." He is also in favor of "full co-operation" between all the municipalities.

A Greater Victoria resident for 28 years, Reginald A. Clarke, believes Saanich can go ahead far better on their own, with good management. He also feels there should be improved bus service in the area, "especially in Gordon Head."

Coun. Ainslie Worthington criticized apathetic ratepayers for not taking more interest in the election.

"Apathy of the Saanich public at large is a greater danger to the future of the district than is amalgamation," he said.

Esquimalt Candidates List Projects, Policies

With municipal elections support for the Gorge Park just around the corner, four Esquimalt candidates competing for three seats on Esquimalt council have given their election platforms.

Coun. James Bryant said if he is re-elected, he will try to get a breakwater built at Lamson Park where there are two boat-launching ramps. He is chairman of a joint committee on the Gorge Park project, and said he hopes to "carry on the progress" being made there.

Edward Lawrence De Costa, a VMD employee, said he would like to see more playgrounds for children in Esquimalt, as well as additions to existing playgrounds. He pledged "full support" to the Gorge Park project in co-operation with the Victoria Kinsmen Club.

Platform for Coun. Vincent Rush, an E. & N. Railway employee, who is standing for re-election, is "sound administration and representation for the people on the council, so they will have a voice in all the matters that go on in the municipality."

Housewife Mrs. F. A. Browne said she has no specific platform, but is interested in sound administration, social services and organized town planning.

"Esquimalt is already pretty well run—I can't see how it can be improved very much," she said.

World's Food Need 'Greatest Threat'

Men of today are the first generation to "hold veto power over future generations," Dr. Brock Chisholm told a meeting of the B.C. Professional Engineers' Association.

"Warfare as it is known now has become synonymous with suicide," he said.

"It is necessary for us to recognize that no institution we have now was designed for the life in the world as it now is," he added.

"There is not a business system, an economics system, a food distribution system which is not obsolete."

He said failure of food distribution to keep pace with the increase in world population was "a greater threat to the world than either atomic bombs or biological warfare."

"Everyone has to do all he can to soften local loyalties and extend local boundaries," Dr. Chisholm said.

It's New Era—Bennett

KELOWNA (CP)—Premier Bennett yesterday following an Ottawa announcement that "dawn of a new era for British Columbia" talks between Canada and the United States on Columbia River development are to begin shortly.

But, said Mr. Bennett in an interview, the B.C. government will continue to press for power development of the Peace River.

He predicted that B.C. will eventually become the greatest industrial area in North America.

Mr. Bennett disclosed that he has an appointment with Prime Minister Diefenbaker Dec. 20 to discuss Columbia River development.

"As premier of B.C. I have pressed for the last three years that the downstream benefits be negotiated by Canada and the U.S. Immediately after the downstream benefits are settled, British Columbia will start developing the Columbia River.

"The real reason for the Americans now negotiating the Columbia is because of the development that is taking place on the Peace River. They know they can no longer bluff B.C. In the Kootenay development we will secure new industries, including a steel mill."

'Peace Will Win' Race for Power

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Peace River will produce power years ahead of the Columbia and just as cheaply, says the president of Peace River Power Development Corporation.

W. C. Mainwaring, former vice president of British Columbia Electric Company, said in an interview Friday night an announcement from Ottawa on future international talks on the Columbia adds nothing to what is known about B.C. power.

Mr. Mainwaring said Ottawa's announcement shows negotiations still have to be completed on downstream benefits of the Columbia, which he said means the Columbia would not produce power for another 10 years at the earliest.

Meanwhile, Peace River Power Development would be producing power by 1965, he said. By the time the Columbia was ready, B.C. and Washington State would be hungry enough for power from both developments.

"There is plenty of room for both if they are developed

Toone Asks New Details On Parking

City alderman candidate Alfred W. Toone yesterday charged the public has received inadequate information on the downtown improvement and parking plan, which he approves in principle.

He called for immediate clarification of "some of the more basic issues" in the overall plan.

He asked to what extent are businesses around the View Street—project prepared to "frank" customer parking tickets, and what guarantees are there of this. Traffic control also needs explanation, he said.

B.C. 'Scrooge' For Jobless

Mental Health Gifts Drive Going Well

Two-thirds of its objective of 1958 Christmas gifts for B.C.'s "forgotten" mental patients has already been reached by the Victoria branch of the B.C. division of the Canadian Mental Health Association.

"I'm confident we'll go over the objective as soon as Monday's mail starts coming in," Mrs. Douglas Hawkes, treasurer, said here last night. "We've got four times as many gifts now as we sent away last year."

Mrs. Hawkes said the objective of all units of the B.C. branch of the CMHA is to collect gifts for all 6,500 mental patients in the province. Gifts will be individually wrapped bearing each patient's name.

Anyone wishing to donate gifts should take them to 817A Fort Street. Cash can be sent either to the Fort Street depot or to Mrs. C. C. Warren in the public relations department at Hudson's Bay Company department store.

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan has appealed to Welfare Minister Eric Martin to extend Christmas welfare bonus payments to employables out of work as well as the "unemployable."

In effect he likened Mr. Martin to "Scrooge."

Mr. Strachan said the Christmas bonus of $5 to a family and $2 to a single person is normally provided annually to all persons in receipt of social allowance.

DISTRESSING

"It is distressing to read (Colonist, Nov. 21) that this year, in spite of the fact the federal government is now paying 50 per cent of all social allowance granted in the province on the condition that no discrimination is made between unemployed and employed who can work, the government is planning to discriminate against the latter by refusing to grant to them a Christmas bonus to supplement their meagre social allowance," Mr. Strachan said in a letter to Mr. Martin.

"I find it impossible to fathom the thinking behind such a decision and I appeal to you to rescind what appears to be a policy more in keeping with the days of Charles Dickens than 1958," he said.

Commonwealth Can't Exist If 'Half Rich, Half Starving'

SYDNEY (UPI)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said yesterday that the Commonwealth could not survive if it was "half prosperous and half starving."

In one of his bluntest speeches in several weeks, the world-touring Canadian leader told a state luncheon that the Commonwealth could not exist on common heritage and ideals alone. It needed above all, he said, "the realization that each of us is his brother's keeper."

The prime minister, who arrived in Australia's largest city Saturday from Melbourne, said this realization was the achievement of the recent Montreal economic conference. At that meeting "we learned in the field of bitter experience that none of us can be prosperous at another's poverty."

If the Commonwealth could meet the economic challenge, Mr. Diefenbaker said, it could "provide the answer to the hopes and dreams of mankind."

Italian Government Survives Again

ROME (AP)—Premier Amintore Fanfani's shaky pro-Western coalition government squeezed out a razor thin vote of confidence Saturday night. The government won by a count of 294-286, with eight abstentions over the solid opposition of the Fascist right and the Socialist and Communist left.

U.K. Tries Again For Mercy Trip

New action has been taken by British authorities in Sofia, Bulgaria, to obtain an exit permit for the daughter of a dying Nanaimo woman, John Taylor, Vancouver lawyer and MP, said last night.

Mr. Taylor said he received a cable from Sofia yesterday morning assuring everything possible was being done to obtain a visa for Mrs. Dimitri Vlasarev, whose cancer-stricken mother, Mrs. Mara Baltz, 56, has only a few weeks to live.

Earlier this week another daughter, Mrs. Oliver Fabris, of Nanaimo, learned from her sister that an earlier plea for an exit permit from the Communist-ruled country had been turned down.

Mrs. Vlasarev, her doctor husband and their two children had been cleared for immigration by the Canadian government nearly a month ago.

Doctors said the mother will live through Christmas, but will need more blood transfusions. Mrs. Fabris said yesterday.

She is still hoping for a last reunion with her daughter in Sofia.

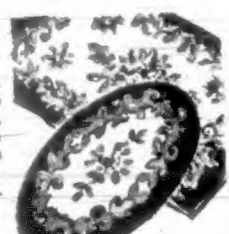

Mrs. Baltz was separated from her daughter in war-torn Europe 16 years ago.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT
Diabetes
Q. How can you tell when you have diabetes?
A. You can't. Diabetes, or any other disease, can be diagnosed only by a physician. Don't fall for mail order racket. One big-city "analytic bureau" will test your urine every three months for the bargain price of $12.00 a year. One subscriber to this "service" sent the "bureau" a bottle of colored salt water. Back came a faked report: the salt water, according to the report, contained uric acid and epithelial cells! Five sucker complained and got his money back but the bureau remained in business. You can't go wrong by putting your health in capable medical hands. You can go wrong by trying do-it-yourself methods.
Q. A large brain and high intelligence go hand in hand. True or false?
A. Mainly false. A professor of zoology at the University of Copenhagen says that within limits the weight of the brain does not seem to have a bearing on intelligence. However, mental deficiency does occur when the number of brain cells are below a certain limit. No one knows for sure what this limit is.
Medical in MEDICAL MIRROR is based on various scientific publications with claim not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease requires the skill and knowledge which only a physician can apply by personally attending the patient.

Community at Crossroad

THE issue of whether or not amalgamation is to be studied further by Victoria and Saanich on the basis of the Deutsch report will be decided by the owner-electors of both municipalities when they vote on the covering bylaws on Thursday. It should be clearly understood that the passage of the measures in both areas by even overwhelming majorities would commit neither Victoria nor Saanich to civic union. The question asked is the same in both areas: "Are you in favor of uniting the municipalities of the City of Victoria and the District of Saanich?" That asks for an expression of opinion on only the principle of amalgamation at this time.

Not only the two municipalities concerned but all municipalities in the Greater Victoria region are now at a crossroad regarding their future in which there clearly are some decisions to be made. They can remain as they are, with overlapping effort and four of everything. They can employ still more of the quasi-regional method of administration that has developed with water service, public health, schools and a few other things. Or they can—by segments or wholly—join in some form of civic union which would sweep away the artificial boundaries of what is in fact a common urban community. No one is trying to rush important decisions which must take time and careful thought. An affirmative vote would give that time and opportunity. A negative one would kill it.

The amalgamation debate opened well under the auspices of the Senior and Junior Chambers of Commerce. Dr. Deutsch has contributed a factual report, and he discussed it freely at the public meetings. It is to be regretted that in later stages of the debate internal division on the Saanich Council blurred the main argument. The sole question now, in any event, is do the ratepayers of the City and Saanich wish to probe the way leading toward amalgamation or do they not? As separate communities, Victoria, Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt can have each their separate futures. Combined they all would have a vastly brighter one, through the elision of parochial divisions and the union of common strengths. That is worth considering judgment.

The Queen's Visit

PRELIMINARY details of the Queen's visit next summer have been announced officially by the federal government. They indicate that Her Majesty will come to British Columbia at the beginning of July. This city is not yet specifically named on the itinerary, but since it was previously mentioned that the royal tour would embrace all provincial capitals the city can get ready for the occasion.

This will be the first visit to Victoria of the Queen as the reigning monarch, but her previous visit as princess in 1951 should help in planning the arrangements. Taken in conjunction with the visit this year of the Princess Margaret there will be opportunity to rectify mistakes and benefit from past experience. Chief among the changes that should ensue is a wider opportunity for more people to see the Queen and be seen by her.

Apparently a "meet the people" theme will be the core of this particular tour. This should be of special interest to the local tourist industry, for if the visit is to have informal tinges it should be a prize drawing card for visitors from across the line. The Queen's presence may therefore make up next summer for the season spoiled for many this year by the boat strike. No doubt tourist officials will make the most of the added attraction of a royal visit next July, and the city as a whole will be the gainer as a result.

As for Victorians themselves, they will be delighted to see the Queen and will hope the arrangements made prove more acceptable than before. Difficult though it is to draw up schedules the prime purpose of the tour should be kept firmly in mind; a fleeting glimpse of a royal visitor in a car going too fast for instance, brings small satisfaction. Fewer and more leisurely engagements wouldn't do any harm.

First Come, First Served

IN his pamphlet The Buzzer, the B.C. Electric Company passes on a useful suggestion to bus passengers—one well worth following, particularly during the hectic period from now until after the holidays. It is that passengers should form the queue habit when several are waiting at a bus stop.

Because of a faint though largely imagined tangle of regimentation about it there are some people who object to the queue on principle; and also others who object because of unappealing reluctance to wait their turn. Yet for anything like transportation the orderly line-up is the fairest and most sensible way of pre-arranged embarkation, especially when queues are voluntary and self-disciplined. When groups of intending passengers by mutual consent board a bus in the order in which they arrived at the stop there is little chance of the elderly or timid being elbowed aside by the thrusters, or of being out-manoeuvred by those insidious people—very often falsely polite women—who always try to edge in ahead of others.

During the war years people queued for almost everything, and it was a natural reaction that the habit should be dropped after the war ended. At a bus stop, however, any irritation caused by waiting in line is small compared with that of being an early comer and yet missing the bus because an impatient mob forces its way to the doors with no regard for order of arrival. Queueing is a simple habit to start. It only needs three or four people to form themselves into line and late arrivals instinctively fall in behind. Then when the bus arrives all are able to board without fuss or shoving.

Undignified Interviews

Public consternation in respect of B.C.'s political troubles may run counter to the wishes of the detractors of the present government.

Many of the TV viewers who saw the Gagliardi versus Webster et al interview last Wednesday evening can be excused for wondering how low the level of public appearances of this kind is to sink.

Webster has not endeared himself to the hearts of many residents by a display verging on ill manners and ill concealed contempt and scorn for the person he is interviewing—attacking might be a better word.

No one doubts that there have been some serious mistakes made in B.C. by the present government. To pillory the government in a civilized, logical and quiet manner is far more effective than the bawling presented last week. The detractors will surely fail in their purpose if they continue as they have begun.

Everyone's Responsibility

George B. Kenney, chairman of the Canadian Highway Safety Conference, sponsoring Safe Driving Week nationally, points out that responsibility for the prevention of traffic accidents and the resultant toll of injury and death as well as the multi-million dollar economic loss to the country, rests with the individual motorist and pedestrian.

"Each of us must become keenly aware of the fact that a traffic accident can be prevented only by the individual who drives or walks. He can never leave it with 'the other fellow.' He must do it himself, and until he realizes that fully there can be no significant reduction in highway deaths anywhere."

Over-Strained Belts

Economically, of course, wage raises to correspond with increased living costs are illogical. The fact that there is only so much food in the world is not altered by printing more money to buy it. All we do thereby is to change the ratio of money to food... it takes more money to buy the same food, or prices go up. With this is the disadvantage to every body of depreciated savings.

But seeing that we have adopted this 20th century method of debasing the currency, it is obviously not fair that while those in work can get compensation for currency debasement, those on fixed incomes should have to pull in tighter already strained belts.

Protection for Saltair

There has been talk of a Saltair fire department for a number of years. Tuesday night's fire has demonstrated that the time for talking is past and the time for action is here. The simplest and quickest way, and possibly the fairest in the long run, would be for the ratepayers to authorize the water board to levy an additional tax to cover the cost of a fire department. There is authority in the Water Act for this to be done.

Thinking Aloud

Letter from London

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

SAW a picture of Churchill standing at his door on his 81st birthday. The cigar was there, of course, and a triangular patch of white showing from his breast pocket. Like yours truly Sir Winston obviously ignores fashion. A year ago the style was three or four white tips coily peeping over the pocket rim, now it is an unimaging single white border half an inch deep. What it will be by next winter no ordinary mortal dare guess, but don't ever believe that the only sartorial slaves are women. Cast your eye around the male guests at the next function you attend, stopping at the breast pockets. Nine out of ten will look the same.

Read somewhere that when V.I.P.s go tiger-hunting in India an expert marksman goes along to fire simultaneously, and thus prevent the unsuspecting visitor, usually a poor shot, from the embarrassment of a "miss." Stunt-men substitute for film heroes in physically awkward moments; politicians read speeches prepared by their staffs; celebrities publish books put together by ghost-writers; anonymous singers lend voices to dumb actors. What in these highly progressive days, apart from tall buildings, is on the up and up?

Saw a picture of Mr. Diefenbaker wearing a Cossack-type hat called a Jinnah, for ceremonial purposes only, in a Pakistan village. Presumably the hat is named after Mohamed Ali Jinnah, the founder of that state, for this particular headgear was a trademark with him. If the PM brings it home it should invite the copyists; it would also be suitable for the Ottawa climate, being easily pulled down over the ears. In Victoria, fortunately, ears run no risk of being nipped off in wintertime.

Observed with some disquiet that Cecil B. De Mille is about to film the life of Baden-Powell. It will be a grandiose sequence of histrionics, Cleopatras, and a jamboree that includes a chariot race, I thought. The present chief scout, Lord Rowallan, initially had a similar foreboding, for he said "such a film could be a disaster." After some investigation however he feels that "the man and his story are in safe hands." If they are those hands have greatly changed their attitude. Perhaps the scout world had better hoist their warning signal: "Be prepared."

Saw a picture of a new building that is going up sometime in Vancouver, a beautiful arrangement tiered like a big round wedding cake and standing on stilts. It has the look of the space age, which doubtless will be one of its merits. Some of these modern structures are breathtaking by comparison with their older-fashioned ornate neighbors, but how will they stand the test of time? Will a city full of them appear 50 years hence like a multiple game of mecano building, abandoned by then for something else?

Noticed that English cricket is being outperformed by soccer. Hearken to this sporting paean on Stanley Matthews, who showed his wizardry at Royal Athletic Park a few years ago: "Highbury, like Wembley, also reacts to the incomparable Matthews. It is champagne to him. The bubbles tickle his toes, the old magic flows out, and he becomes the heroic actor in a favorite theatre holding an entranced public in the hollow of his hand... he juggled the ball effortlessly at the pace of a waltz... What is his secret? His feet are like antennae, he seems possessed of atomic energy and blessed with eyes at the side and back of his head..." And a lot more. It is a come-down afterwards to bother with the result or who scored the goals.

The Obsession of Fringe Benefits

By RICHARD L. THOMAS

ONE of the greatest problems of British industry today has been described by the welfare officer of a large automobile manufacturer as "an obsession with security." It is reflected over the whole field of employment. Staff managers agree that one of the first questions asked by a prospective employee is whether the company has a pension scheme; the second is usually whether it has a canteen or provides lunch vouchers, and the third is whether it makes a contribution towards transport.

It all stems from the days of acute labor shortage. Then employers competed with each other even if there was an agreement about actual wages or salaries. The first concession was the "luncheon voucher" — a token valued at the equivalent of 50c which was accepted by approved restaurants as payment or part payment of the employee's lunch. The voucher was redeemed with the employer's monthly cheque. The main virtue of the scheme was that it was not, theoretically, a wage increase of $2.50 a week and from the employee's point of view was not subject to income tax.

Today the voucher schemes are so wide-spread that there are firms which do nothing but operate them. They collect a commission from the employer for arranging and providing the vouchers for distribution and accreditation at a large number of restaurants, and they collect another commission from the restaurants which provide the meal. And, inevitably, side rackets have developed: one restaurant recently was crossed off the books because it specialized in giving $1.50 in cash for $2.50 worth of vouchers.

In other places employees have been known to use luncheon vouchers for buying chocolates and cigars. Most of these rackets have died out primarily because an income tax inspector threatened to insist on evidence that the vouchers had been used for lunch; and employers threatened action against restaurants which used vouchers for anything except meals.

The firm without luncheon vouchers or a canteen providing meals at less than cost is now the exception rather than the rule.

Then followed pension schemes to augment the benefits of the welfare state. Some were contributory and some were not. There was some trouble with the unions over pensions because they wanted schemes which the employee could take with him if he changed jobs. It is a refinement which has come to some of them, but in others the employee who leaves merely gets his own contribution back which the employers regarded as a restraining factor in a world where everyone seemed to be on the move.

The transport contribution came with the ever-increasing fares by public transport. It became a major consideration where the job was in relation to home because of high fares. Distant employers attracted staff by paying for their season ticket, in whole or in part. The result was that every wages bill was inflated by extras.

Now that we have around 2 per cent unemployment people are not quite so fussy. School-leavers instead of being offered half a dozen jobs have to go looking, and the boss can be a little more independent. Most newcomers are told that joining a pension scheme depends upon some evidence of satisfactory service; that luncheon vouchers are not a right but a reward for good service, and the cost of getting to and from work is their business—not the boss's. The government employment exchanges note with some satisfaction that employees are changing their jobs less frequently. Not long ago if the boss said one word the employee would take another job around the corner. Today he realizes that the job may not be there.

There is, however, a new factor worrying employers. Whilst modest employment is making a job at least as valuable as security, it is not helping to increase productivity. Many employees, it seems, feel that going slow is the best way of ensuring that their jobs last longer — in fact it has the reverse effect. It makes jobs peter out more quickly. Only by satisfying the increased demand made possible by the elimination of the credit squeeze can manufacturers provide more work; after a while the demand peters out even though unsatisfied.

Since the end of the credit squeeze, for example, there has developed

Women in Chains

THE drought was over, Utah ratified the 21st amendment to the United States constitution, putting an end to 14 years of prohibition, 25 years ago.

Utah was the 36th state to ratify the legal minimum. In the 18 states which had enacted "wet" laws, it immediately became legal to take a drink of strong liquor.

"Immediately trucks laden with barrels and bottles roared from bonded warehouses; in shiny new bars; in restaurants and hotels wherever state law did not prevent, there was a popping of corks..."

Stored in Canadian warehouses there was 40,000,000 gallons of whisky earmarked for export.

The days of rum-running were over. A number of people who had made their fortunes slaking the great American thirst had to go respectable. Mayor David Leeming of Victoria was re-elected by acclamation to serve his third term.

Suffragettes chained to their seats turned a political meeting into a near-riot in London, 50 years ago.

Demonstrating for the women's vote at a Women's Liberal Association meeting for David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, the women lashed out with whips at stewards who tried to eject them from the hall. Some of the suffragettes took off their overcoats to reveal prison clothes. They had served time because of earlier demonstrations.

The women were eventually freed from their chains and thrown out, some of them having clothes torn off them in the struggle.

When the din subsided and Mr. Lloyd George was at last able to make himself heard, he assured his audience of 8,000 that the government planned to introduce the vote for women.

He had been trying to say that when the demonstration began.

THE schooner Shark was confiscated by the Crown and a fine of $500 was imposed on its master for trading whisky to the Comox Indians, 95 years ago.

A fierce wind raked Victoria. "A house in the upper part of Yates Street was blown down, and signs, verandahs and awnings were scattered in all directions."

"The bulletin boards of both Colonist and Chronicle were torn from their fastenings and caused to pirouette down Government Street in a most undignified manner."

—FROM COLONIST FILES

quite an acute shortage in such things as good furniture (there is plenty of junk and super-quality in the shops but not good stuff; you have to wait for that), gas stoves, refrigerators and water heaters.

A great deal of these temporary shortages are due to another facet of the employment situation — the unwillingness of employees to tackle a different type of job. It seems that the British workman is notoriously conservative in this direction even to the point of a house painter not wanting to paint furniture or the man used to wiring radio sets not wanting to wire electric stoves. It is granted that while techniques are slightly different the basic job is similar, but many men have exerted their right under welfare state regulations of taking six months' unemployment pay in the absence of the exact job they are used to. After six months they have to take what is offered.

But the unwillingness to tackle new jobs, the obsession with security, seems to be the outcome of the welfare state on the one hand and the unsettled state of the world on the other. It seems as though the laws of compensation are working with a vengeance. In a world in which nothing seems impossible and in which anything may happen at any moment, distraught mankind in some distorted way seems to imagine that one kind of job reinforced with pensions, luncheon vouchers and travel allowances will get him on top of disaster. Let us hope that he will not be disillusioned, and still more that the boss will not become infected with the same bug.

The Packsack

of GREGORY CLARK

IN London one of the busiest toy shops has the most wonderful electric train set up in its window.

Two trains, a passenger and a goods train, as they call 'em over there, circulate at high speed over wide countryside, past villages, under bridges, through tunnels. Signals flash. Semaphore flags rise and fall. Gatemen raise gates. And, at the end of a run, the trains come to a magnificent and gradual halt, the passenger train in a fine model railway station, the goods train in a complex marshalling yard, as they call freight yards over yonder.

Each run takes about three solid minutes. And to start a fresh run somebody outside on the street, preferably a small boy with his nose stuck to the plate glass window, has to put a ha'penny in a slot provided outside.

Now who but the English would have thought of a thing like that? Inside, I asked one of the floor managers about it. What was the idea of making the public pay for a window display at Christmas?

"Ah, no. The pennies go to a well-known charity. But the reason we put that slot out there is to give each child the feeling that he or she is operating the trains. It is their doing. They have the feeling that they are throwing the switch that starts the whole tremendous scene in motion. It is, as you see, personal, in a sense that mere watching is not."

Off the Record

Good Voices Rise Above Uproar Of Rock 'n' Roll

By JIM TAYLOR

It may be a bit early for year-end columns, but here comes the annual backward glance at the year's music, offered in the hope that those who agree will still have time to send Christmas presents.

The year 1958 for the record business was much the same as the one that preceded it. There was the usual rash of new vocal groups. Each made one hit record, then vanished. Rock 'n' Roll stayed as powerful as ever, but a few hardy souls still managed to make hit records by the simple process of singing pleasantly and in an understandable manner.

It was a year of big gains for the beat instrumental, with newcomers like Duane (Rebel Rouser) Eddy pushing their way onto the charts.

So here once again are our personal choices for the "best-of-the-year" awards, picked only because we liked them. Since it is impossible to consider rock 'n' roll as music, but since it is such a great part of the record business, we have given it a special category.

Best vocalist, male—Johnny Mathis gets a slight edge over the fabulous Frank Sinatra here. You can't argue with a man who makes his after hit, and hasn't missed yet. Rock 'n' roll—Ricky Nelson, the only one of the bunch who has anything resembling a voice or who honestly tries to sing words instead of sounds.

Best vocalist, female—Patricia Page, simply because she has a top-notch voice, and because there is no one around to provide any competition, with the possible exception of Eddie Gorme. R and R—Connie Francis, for much the same reasons.

Best vocal group—This more than all others is a personal choice, going to the Kingston Trio. Their one hit record "Tom Dooley" and their only LP has proven them to be one of the most talented groups to hit records in many years. With the folk-song feel just starting to reach its full proportions, they could make it big in '59. Rock 'n' roll? There wasn't one good enough to merit mention.

Finally, we come to the selection of the best song; and here it took a lot of deciding. Here's a vote for "The End," as done by the multi-talented Earl Grant. The song had lyrics that made sense, great arrangement and orchestration.

There was no pick for the best orchestra, since orchestras are something of a dead loss in the current trends. In closing, a salute to Jimmie Rodgers, who is neither a balladeer nor a rock 'n' roller. He just sings everything, and does it all well enough to make hits.

Graham Steed conducts the Victoria Choral Society in Handel's "Messiah" on Wednesday at Metropolitan United Church, at 8 p.m.

This will be Mr. Steed's final appearance in Victoria.

The chorus numbers some 75 voices and there will be an orchestra of 10 or 12 pieces. Organist is Mr. Richard Proudman.

Soprano soloist is Christa Ortlepp, Margaret Myles will sing the contralto part and Victoria's Norman Tyrrell is the tenor. Derek McDermot is bass soloist.

The Musical Art Society's "Christmas Carol Tea," an affair of some 10 years' standing, is set for Saturday.

Starting at 3 p.m. at Holyrood House, the program features the Society's Madrigal Singers with carol selections; violinist Bette Davis and items by the Velda Wille Dancers. Accompanist to Miss Davis is Haze Norris.

Reservations for Carol Tea may be made by calling Miss Mary Adamson at EV 4-2682.

I Want to Go On and On,' Says Niven

Life's a Steeplechase

NEW YORK (AP)—David Niven resents life. Not the weary length of it, but the brevity of it.

"I want to live another 150 years," he said. "I want to go on and on, doing what I'm doing. I can't visualize myself retiring and sitting in a little house by the seashore watching seagulls."

"I deeply resent the fact I can't read all the books, I want to, to know all the people, see all the places."

As debonaire in real life as he is on the screen, Niven believes in meeting the problems of living with a mixture of granite and quicksilver.

The handsome British actor, after a harum-scarum, impetuous youth, settled down to become one of Hollywood's most durable players of light comedy roles.

After 6½ years of service in the British Army during the Second World War, he emerged a colonel. He quickly resumed his star status and was one of the first Hollywood figures to adventure into television, despite a film mogul's stern warning. "If you do, you'll never work in my studio again."

War left a stamp on his thinking, as it does on all who spend much time in it. This is his personal philosophy:

"I think we all eventually evolve our own faith. I am convinced that heaven and hell are right where we are now—on this earth."

"Life is an enormous Grand National Steeplechase. We are given certain hurdles to get over, and certain opportunities. And if you don't spot the opportunities, you miss them."

"It really doesn't matter who is the winner, it's getting around the course that counts."

Ten Sing Today In 'Met' Auditions

Pacific Northwest regional auditions of the Metropolitan Opera Company take place at 7:30 this evening at Holyrood House.

Approximately 10 applicants will be heard and those selected by the local adjudicating board become eligible to proceed to Seattle in January for a final regional competition. The number thus selected is not limited in any way.

Proceeds from entrance fees will be devoted entirely to the assistance and encouragement of young singers.

This is the first time that such practical interest has been shown in performers other than those immediately and obviously within hailing distance of the operatic stage.

Dr. Roger Manning, who has been heading the auditioning panel in Victoria, has been prevented from continuing by illness. His place will be taken by Stanley Hoban and the panel members will be Margaret Abbott, Hans Gruber and Boyce Gaddes.

It is also hoped that Mrs. Raymond Locke Gardiner of Seattle, regional chairman of candidates, will be present.

Symphony Soloist

Appearing as guest artist with Victoria Symphony Orchestra next Sunday and Monday will be baritone James Milligan, regarded as one of America's foremost young artists. He will sing songs from Vaughn-Williams and arias from Mozart and Verdi.

Opera Tests Held Soon

Auditions for "Die Fledermaus" by Johann Strauss, spring production of the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Operatic Society, will be held on Dec. 15 and 17.

The auditions will be held in radio station CJVI, where on Monday at 8 p.m. the society will hold a general meeting. Music director for "Die Fledermaus" will be Stanley Hoban, and stage director will be Audrey St. D. Johnson.

Foreigners Neither Fish nor Fowl

This is the seventh in a series of 10 articles written by Montreal's Gerald Clark after a five-week tour of Communist China.

HONG KONG (NANA)—The score of so Americans in China, including 11 who were repatriated after the Korean war, lead a life that is neither fish nor fowl.

They decay standards in the U.S. and yet they are never thoroughly accepted by the Chinese. The same kind of split existence applies to about 15 Britons and one Canadian woman, Doris Nielsen, a former member of parliament. After talking to a few of them I have the feeling they are fighting a weird inner battle—determined to understand and love Chinese communism, despite the inborn Chinese mistrust and suspicion of all foreigners. Some are even an embarrassment to the Chinese.

The irony is that the Americans often feel compelled to explain, with some sympathy, the action and attitude of their old countrymen, Morris Wills, for instance, says: "Regarding Formosa, I tell people that America has a pact with Chiang Kai-shek and has to hang on, more or less as a face-saving problem."

How does he react to the anti-American banners that fill the streets of Peiping? "Of course it always hurts a bit," he says, "because I'm an American. But I also feel ashamed every time Dulles blows off in Washington."

Wills is now 25. Chatting with him you would think he was just another normal, unpretentious young man from a small town. And, indeed, he does come from Fort Ann, in upstate New York, and longs for frozen custard. But when you ask, "Why did you stay?" a hazy look sweeps over him and he replies, "I know the American army and they wouldn't think twice about trying out germ warfare on people they think substandard—like Koreans and Chinese. Of course it was a limited operation, but that doesn't change it."

Brainwashed? Misguided? Confused? Call him what you want. He was only 17 when he was captured in Korea. He says with great fervor, "My one desire is that our two countries and Reader's Digest, hasn't any plans at the moment about leaving.

Ex-GI Morris Wills, of Fort Ann, N.Y., was 17 when captured in Korea. Now 25, he is a student at Peiping University.

He says: "It seems to me that in the expression 'life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness' Americans have forgotten the first part and concentrated on the 'pursuit'."

Wills is not—despite earlier reports—"married to a Chinese general's daughter." Some of the others, though, have married Chinese girls. Among these are Scott Rush, Lowell Skinner and Howard Adams, who are now working in factories in Shantung province, where they earn 60 yuan a month in addition to the Chinese Red Cross allowance. If they want to get back to the United States they'll have a real problem; the authorities won't permit wives to emigrate.

Most of the former GI's are scattered around the country, in schools and plants. Only three, including Wills, live in Peiping. William White, studying law at People's University, currently is working in a people's commune. Jack Dunn is in a hospital suffering from stomach ulcers.

Married Chinese

The rest of the American "colony" consists of such people as Bertha Hinton, who teaches at the Institute of Foreign Languages and at present is in the countryside planting trees with her students.

Iona Kramer, of New York, is married to a Chinese and works for "China Reconstructs," a monthly magazine. Marcella Vance teaches English at Peiping University. The home of Bob and Jane Hoels is a sort of mecca for Americans on May 1 to Oct. 1, the anniversaries of the Chinese Communist revolution.

Like Grandma's

"A party at the Hoels' is just like Christmas at grandma's. All the kids in town collect, and everyone really relaxes." The woman who reported this was Dorothy Fischer, who has lived in China since 1950 "seeing my own country go crazy." In married life Mme. Cheng Yao-chun, Dorothy Fischer comes from New York and has two grown children. Her son, Hugh Cheng, 24, graduated from Brooklyn Technical High

Most Find It Dull

Once there were 21 ex-prisoners-of-war. One died, and nine returned to the U.S. (The Chinese readily grant exit visas.) About those who went back, Wills says, "Most foreign students find it dull, because they don't participate in activities. And I guess they simply get homesick." Wills, who keeps in touch with his family and receives such American magazines as Time and is now an engineer in Shanghai. A daughter, Xena Cheng, 20, is a student here.

Feels Frustrated

Dorothy Fischer says that it was really Tolstoy that made her become a Communist. She quit the party in the U.S. since "it wasn't far enough advanced." Now she is somewhat frustrated because the Chinese won't admit her to the party. She teaches journalism, but when I met her she had no classes; all her students were off working at a blast furnace making pig iron.

"I'd be there, too," she said, "but they wouldn't have me—not because I'm a woman or an American, but because I'm too old."

Some Privileges

She's wrong in one way. The Chinese do give the Americans some privileges: when there's a meat or potato shortage, foreigners still receive a substantial allotment. Otherwise they're slight castoffs. If university lecturers are called into conference, it's the Chinese who go—and not their American colleagues.

If security measures tighten, as they did during the Quemoy crisis, foreigners are first to be interrogated. You could call it inverse racial prejudice or nationalism which even common ideology doesn't overcome. Some of the Americans, in complaining about this to the Chinese, hardly endear themselves.

Not Communist

And yet they stay on. Bob Winter is in a special category: an oddity, not a Communist. Winter quit the University of Chicago 35 years ago to take a teaching post in Peiping. He visited New York in 1943, could find "no sense of purpose," and returned to China—a peaceful, perennial China hand, now busy compiling a new dictionary. In a different class is Mrs. Doris Nielsen Godefray, who came to China 18 months ago. Doris Nielsen was an "independent" member (North Battleford, Sask.) in the House of Commons, Ottawa, from 1940 to 1945.

What About Canada?

She teaches at the Institute of Foreign Languages, and when I barged in, without warning, I found her in a comfortable apartment decorated

WONDERFUL CHRISTMAS GIFT SUGGESTIONS for THOSE WHO TREASURE LOVELY THINGS—

Art Sleuths Find 'Buried' Treasure

CHICAGO (AP)—Two lawyers who dabble in art sleuthing and collecting have picked up $1,600,000 in masterpieces, says a Vatican art expert.

The lawyers' outlay for the three paintings was $2,200. Prof. Amadore Porcella has pronounced the 16th-century paintings authentic. They are: Christ Carrying the Cross by Giorgione; Sacred Conversation by Giovanni Bellini; and The Massacre of the Innocents by Raphael Sanzio.

Lawyers Rudolph Vasalle and Paul DeLaney bought the Giorgione for about $1,000 from a Chicago dealer. It was valued by Porcella at $1,000,000. The Bellini was bought in 1955 for $1,000 and is worth $300,000.

The Raphael was bought from a Chicago auction house last July for $170. Value is $300,000.

Advising the lawyers was Alexander Zlatoff-Mirski, Chicago art restorer, who did not buy the paintings because "I cannot afford to speculate."

Holiday Plan Proposed

Municipal employees of Greater Victoria likely will have Christmas day, Boxing day, New Year's day and the following day as holidays.

City practice has been to quit at noon the day before Christmas and the day before New Year's, but city manager C. C. Wyatt told the Greater Victoria intermunicipal committee the plan this year was to trade the two half-days for a whole day after New Year's day. The committee voted to recommend this policy to other councils.

The distinction of being the first Canadian ever entered in the world accordion championships goes to sixteen-year-old Rickey McClelland, a student at Bob Dressler's Accordion College. He has only been playing four and a half years, and to accomplish this remarkable feat, he practices between four and five hours daily. He has the best equipment obtainable, and plays an instrument designed especially for him by Bob Dressler.

The world championships were held in Brussels this year and won by Flavien Fogli of Italy. The 1958 playoffs will be held in New York City, U.S.A. Not knowing what to expect, Rickey is preparing a program by a variety of composers, such as the entire Nutcracker Suite by Tchaikovsky, Sonata Pathétique by Beethoven, Hungarian Rhapsody by Liszt, Toccata in D Minor by Bach and Konzertstück by Von Weber. He always has between sixty and seventy concert selections at his fingertips in addition to the regular show stoppers he uses at his personal appearances.

Parents wishing to give their children the advantage of a musical education are asked to contact Bob Dressler. All lessons are private and individual. Mr. Dressler says "only in this way can the student get the personal attention he requires to make him an outstanding performer." Bob Dressler's accordion college is at 894 Fort St. in Victoria in conjunction with the Rex School of Piano, and people wishing to contact him are asked to phone EV 2-6742.

Village office in Sidney has been bombarded with complaints brought about by the actions of an employee of the Capital Region Planning Board in attaching new house numbers to village homes.

"My wife was working in the back yard," said A. J. Bower, Orchard Ave., one of the complainants. "She heard something banging on the front door and when she ran to look, here was this fellow driving nails into it."

"Other residents have complained about what they called 'a high-handed method of operation.'"

Do-It-Yourself

Paint Bars Fungus, Insects from Wood

By RALPH DALZELL

Contrary to popular opinion, paints and other wood finishes are more effective as agents to improve and maintain the appearance of wood than as wood preservatives.

The U.S. Forest Products Laboratory states that exterior woodwork that stays reasonably dry, except for wetting of its exposed surface by rain or snow for short times, does not decay if left without paint or other finishes.

However, without some finish or sealer, exterior woodwork is subject to weathering which might cause warping, cracking, or pulling away from fasteners. Thus paints or other finishes, always maintained in good condition, are desirable coatings for wood, especially when it is exposed to the weather.

Molds, stains and decay in wood are caused by fungi, which are microscopic plants that must have food such as wood on which to live. Their growth, however, depends to a great extent on dampness. Thus any exterior painted woodwork of a house, as steps, porches, posts and siding (see pictures 1 and 2) are subject to decay if they come in contact with earth that is generally damp or wet.

The remedy is to prevent contact with dampness. Other precautions against rot include making sure that gutters carry water away promptly, that there are no cracks around windows or doors through which water could enter, that roofs are watertight and that condensation cannot take place in walls, roofs or floors.

For interior wood items as flooring, trim, doors, furniture and panelling, paints or other finishes prevent the alternate absorption of moisture and drying which could cause warping and cracking. If these wood items are made of properly seasoned (dried) wood and if paints or other finishes are maintained in good condition, the wood will stay in excellent condition for centuries.

The areas under enclosed porches, in crawl spaces and even in storage spaces should be well ventilated with windows or vents to avoid damp conditions which could eventually cause rot in wood. In some localities, termites constitute a severe threat to wood. Make sure that all wood is at least eight inches above the earth.

Termites will not often enter wood if they have to travel out in the open between the earth and the wood. Metal shields, shown in pictures 3 and 4, will help to protect wood from termites. If termites are already suspected in the woodwork, call professional exterminators who have the necessary equipment to safeguard wood.

Wood can be protected from attack by decay fungi and harmful insects by the application of various wood preservative chemicals. Generally, this protection is not of great value unless the preservative penetrates the wood deeply. These preservatives are practical only so far as fence or other wood posts are concerned.

If a post (shown in picture 5) is set in earth it should be treated with a preservative oil such as creosote or petroleum solutions. Note that the preservative should extend well above the level of the earth.

If any exterior or interior woodwork does not hold paint, if the paint peels or blisters, moisture is present in the wood. Unless the source is located and repaired, rotting is sure to take place and bring about repair and expense and unsanitary conditions.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—Is it possible to buy wall panelling already finished?

A.—Yes, several factory-applied finishes on panelling are available. It is more expensive, but in the long run is economical.

Q.—We applied a rubber base paint to our basement floor, but it did not stick very well. Why?

A.—In all probability the trouble was that the concrete surface was hard and glossy. The floor should have been roughened by a weak solution of muriatic acid.

Q.—Can concrete floors be stained?

A.—Yes, special stains are available at paint stores. It might be necessary to apply more than one coat to obtain the same color throughout.

Red Farmer Born 1808, Still Alive

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union's oldest citizen celebrated his 150th birthday Saturday. A Moscow radio broadcast did not name the old man, describing him only as an Azerbaijan collective farmer. It said his 107-year-his family were on hand for the celebration.

Did Irishman Beat Columbus to It?

LONDON (UPI)—Was a sixth-century Irish saint the first man to discover America? Geoffrey Ashe thinks so and will try to prove it.

Ashe, a 35-year-old lecturer on management studies at Regent Street Polytechnic College, says he has collected evidence that St. Brendan beat Christopher Columbus and even Leif Erickson to America. "Irish monks of his time and later are known to have reached the Faroes, Iceland and probably Greenland," says Ashe, "but St. Brendan is represented as voyaging west and southwest from Ireland to a land mass of continental proportions."

Ashe said he wants to retrace the route in the spring of 1960 in a boat of the type used in the Dark Ages.

Brendan's voyages contains details it seemed unlikely could have been invented by anyone who had never been to the New World.

"Indians" of Mexico and Peru in the sixth century held beliefs regarding gods destined to return," he said. "Independent traditions described the visitors as white-bearded men in long robes who came from the Atlantic taught a religion of mercy, founded monastic communities and vanished into the sea again."

Depends on Power Projects

Job Picture Grim For Engineers

Any appreciable improvement in the present bleak employment picture for engineers in B.C. likely will have to await results of studies being carried out in the north and interior of the province.

R. E. Wilkins, newly-elected president of the Association of Professional Engineers of B.C., said here yesterday the year ahead was one of investigating large projects in the hinterland.

Assistant registrar Howard Bennett pointed out that the decrease in the number of unemployed engineers has not been entirely due to better conditions in B.C.

"For example," he said, "several 1958 graduates and a few more senior men have gone to the Boeing plant in Seattle and other engineers have left the province."

No figures on this exodus are available, said Mr. Bennett, "but I believe more engineers have left the province in the last year than have come here."

Go ahead on any one of the huge power projects mooted for the Peace River, the Columbia and the upper Fraser, said Mr. Wilkins, would mean more jobs than there are engineers to fill them.

Mr. Bennett told the meeting: "Letters came from all over the world, and judging by comments in many of them, the writers had previously obtained some highly optimistic news about engineering employment in B.C."

He added: "Needless to say I did my best to correct this false impression."

Labatt Protest Begins

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three Victoria shareholders in Lucky Lager Brewing Company have gone to court to prevent John Labatt Limited, eastern brewers, from taking over their shares for $5.25 each.

Their case went before Mr. Justice A. M. Macfarlane Friday but was adjourned immediately. No date was set for a further hearing.

Gerald Fitzpatrick Dunn, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, his wife, Joan, and Sookie Investments Limited are asking the B.C. Supreme Court to rule that Labatt's is not entitled to acquire their shares.

Labatt's is seeking under the Companies Act to force minority shareholders to sell their stock at the original offering price of $5.25 each. An order to this effect was made Nov. 4 by Mr. Justice J. G. Ruttan when Labatt's held more than 90 per cent of Lucky Lager stock.

The Victorians claim that the court order should be cancelled because the original offer made by Labatt's last May-4 "was not then and is not now a just and equitable price."

They also claim that section 128 of the Companies Act, 1934, referred to in the court order, does not permit acquisition by Labatt's of Lucky Lager shares, and that the act isn't in force now and wasn't in force Nov. 4.

30 Surplus Teachers Working Here—Wyatt

The Greater Victoria school board employs 30 more secondary teachers than it should under a formula suggested by the minister of education, city manager C. C. Wyatt estimates.

Mr. Wyatt told the Greater Victoria intermunicipal committee that according to his figures, the board employed eight fewer secondary teachers than it could under the existing "entitlement" formula.

But because of the teacher shortage, he said, education minister Leslie Peterson had suggested to the school trustees of B.C. in September that a new formula should be considered.

Financial benefit of decreasing the Greater Victoria secondary staff by 30, Mr. Wyatt said, would go almost entirely to the provincial government.

The committee voted to ask school superintendent John Gough to attend its next meeting to explain the effects of cutting the staff.

Reeve George Chatterton of Saanich said he thought "it might be harmful to increase the number of pupils per teacher."

But, he said, "if nothing else, to satisfy our curiosity." Mr. Gough ought to be invited to meet the committee.

Record-Smasher Wastes No Time

It didn't take quarterback Johnny Unitas of Baltimore Colts long to set a National Football League passing record in yesterday's game against the Rams at Los Angeles. Unitas (19) flipped a three-yard pass to end Ray Berry (82) early in the first quarter, marking the 24th consecutive NFL game in which he has thrown a touchdown pass. Previous record of 23 was set in 1941-42 by Cecil Isbell of Green Bay Packers. Colts lost yesterday, 30-28. —(AP Photofax.)

Unitas' Accurate Passing Not Enough for Baltimore

IT BEATS ME

By Jim Tang

They're battling to hold third place in their division and their record when this was written was nine wins and three ties and 13 defeats but a solid pat on the back for coach Pat Egan and his Victoria Cougars is long overdue.

If there is a surprise club in the Western Hockey League this season other than the so far hapless New Westminster Royals, it has to be the Cougars. So little hope was held for them at the start of the season that even some of their most loyal supporters would concede them little more than a chance for the fourth playoff spot in a five-club division.

Perhaps, when the final results are in, that is where the Cougars will be. But after what they have shown in the first 25 games you also have to give them a chance to wind up in the first two. Best of all, the Cougars have given Victorians good hockey entertainment and have never failed to hustle.

That's the thing which stands out. The club has players perhaps not quite ready for the WHL, some who may have passed their peak and others who had been classed as "journeymen" hockey players. It is not, off past records, any outstanding collection of hockey talent. But the Cougars have tried, given it all they had in almost every game, and provided a pleasing wide-open brand of hockey which deserves better than a losing record. This has been our most entertaining club since the "kid line" led the Cougars to their one WHL championship some eight seasons back.

Desire is the biggest word there is in sports and this the Cougars have had. They haven't a strong defence and they're not scoring enough goals but they're almost always in the game. Sixteen of their first 25 games have been decided by two goals or one goal and three others have been tied. The Cougars have won five games by the odd goal, three by two goals while losing four by one goal and four by two goals.

It is taking nothing away from the players to pass out credit to Egan for the fine coaching job he has done with his club. This is the only Cougar club since Roger Leger's championship outfit which has even come close to solving the problem of moving the puck out of its own zone, and sound coaching is indicated in the excellent passing the club has shown on many an occasion.

Both Egan and the players can share the credit for the way the club has come back after a sound licking or a series of defeats. After all of us—well, almost all of us—were saying "I told you so" when the Cougars lost their first two games of the season, the club won its next three. After looking back in a 4-0 blanking by Edmonton, the Cougars went to Seattle to break the Totems' win streak at seven games. After losing five in a row, to Prairie clubs, the Cougars battled the Canucks to a 2-2 tie, then blanked the Canucks and Royals in successive games. After losing, 3-1, to Royals, the Cougars bounced back to outscore Seattle, 3-1.

You just have to like this kind of a club and just have to give it a chance to finish one two. Against the clubs in their own division, the Cougars rank second only to the Totems. The Victoria club has a 7-4-3 record in its own section and only that rather horrible—two wins in 11 games up to last night—record against Prairie clubs has kept the Cougars down. These things, however, even out. The Cougars last night completed the second of their scheduled three trips to the Prairies. Vancouver, Seattle and New Westminster each have to face that rugged jaunt twice more and Spokane, which plays its 12 Prairie games in two trips, has a five-game trip left. On top of that, Cougars, after last night's game, had only 17 away games left and had 21 yet to play in Memorial Arena, where they have won three and tied two of their last six games.

The Cougars also have more than the schedule going for them from here. Gordie Wilson is bound to make their attack more potent and Don McLeod, their best defenceman before he was injured in the ninth game of the season, should make them defensively tougher when he gets back into action. Rookie Ron Blackburn, Ted Harris and Dave Rimstad have been improving. Al Nicholson has proven a valuable new comer. Stan Biliuk is having a good season. Gordie Hawthorth is playing well and George Ford is scoring goals.

All of which is to say that the Cougars are better than most of us thought possible two months ago. If they keep up the kind of hustle they have shown in the first third of the season, second place is no overly-optimistic goal. First place is possible even yet and a playoff spot should be certain. But whatever their final standing, the Cougars are worth watching. They play at home on Wednesday against Spokane and on Saturday against Winnipeg. Why not give them a look?

GUESSING DEPARTMENT: Montreal, New York and Detroit in tonight's NHL play and Winnipeg in the WHL. Batting average to date: At bat 110, hits 74, percentage .673.

THE DIE HARDS

I DIDN'T THINK HE'D SHOW UP!

YOU'RE LATE!

LOS ANGELES—Johnny Unitas, who jumped from the sandlots to the National Football League to become one of its great quarterbacks, set a league passing record here yesterday but his Baltimore Colts lost a thriller, 30-28, to Los Angeles Rams before a crowd of 100,202.

Unitas threw a three-yard pass to Ray Berry early in the first quarter, setting a record of 24 consecutive games in which he has passed for a touchdown. Previous record of 23 was set in 1941-42 by Cecil Isbell of Green Bay Packers.

Unitas completed 23 of 38 passes for 244 yards and three touchdowns, but in the end it was his own passing that beat the Colts. He went into the game with only four interceptions against him all season, but the Rams intercepted three and returned two for touchdowns.

MEANT LITTLE
The game meant little to the Colts, who had already sewed up the western division title.

It's a different story in today's eastern division action. Cleveland Browns can wrap up the title today, but they need an assist from Detroit Lions to pull it off. The Browns are at Philadelphia and the Lions entertain New York Giants in the top games of a five game card.

If the Browns whip the Eagles, they will meet the Colts for the league title Dec. 28 in Cleveland.

But "the book" says the eastern conference winner won't be decided until next Sunday when New York is host to Cleveland in the final day of the pro season.

In other games today, Pittsburgh Steelers are at Washington, Chicago Cardinals take on their bitter cross-town rivals, the Bears in Chicago and Green Bay and San Francisco meet in a televised game in San Francisco.

Eddie Yost Is Traded

WASHINGTON (AP).—Washington Senators Saturday traded veteran third baseman Eddie Yost, shortstop Rocky Bridges and outfielder Neil Chrissy to Detroit Tigers for infielders Reno Bertoia and Ron Samford and centre fielder Jim Delsing.

Yost, a 32-year-old third baseman came to Washington in 1944 and has remained with the Senators ever since, except for two year stints in the navy. Bertoia, who will replace Yost in the Washington infield, is nine years younger. He formerly lived in Windsor, Ont.

Cougars Caught Napping By Calgary Stampede

CALGARY—Victoria's weary Cougars, playing their third game in three nights and their fourth in five, were caught napping in the second period here Saturday night as Calgary Stampede handed them a 6-2 setback in an intersectional Western Hockey League game played before 3,349 fans.

Ahead, 1-0, after the first period and under pressure from the determined Victorians, the Stampede's sudden 9:50 with his ninth goal of the season and Doug Anderson clicked for his sixth less than three minutes later.

TOO LARGE

But the margin was too large and Chuck Blair ended Cougars' faint hopes at 17:15 with the game's last goal.

Cougars, first of the Western Division clubs to make two trips to the Prairies, play their next game on Wednesday, hosting Spokane Flyers for the first time this season.

Sid Finney started the goal spree and before it was over, Ed Dorohoy, Dusty Blair and Fred Glover, playing his first game for the Stampede, had all driven shots past the harassed Marcel Pelletier. Three of the goals were on rebounds from sizzling slap shots.

THIRD LOSS

It was the third defeat of the Cougars' second four-game tour of the eastern division and their seventh in eight games they have played on the Prairies.

The game cost them the services of rookie Don Blackburn for several weeks. Blackburn suffered a dislocated shoulder during second-period action when bounced into the boards by Bruce Lea. Immediately after play resumed, Victoria defenceman Jim Hay tore into Lea in front of the player benches and both received five-minute penalties for fighting.

WILSON WATCHED

The Cougars flew Gordie Wilson from Victoria for the game, but the smooth centre, who joined the club about 10 days ago, was unable to get into action, it was reported, because he didn't have all of his equipment with him. The Cougars went with the same 14 players which have played all of their recent games.

Cougars made a good try to get back into the game in the third period. Al Nicholson finally broke through against the steady Marv Edwards at

Royals Finally Get Going; Winnipeg Trims Spokane

New Westminster Royals, shut out in their last two games, broke loose for four goals in the second period last night to trim Seattle Totems, 5-1, before 1,300 New Westminster fans.

When Gordie Hannigan scored at 6:38 of the first period, it was the first goal for the Royals in 145 minutes and 14 seconds. It was not, however, close to a record. The 1949-50 Victoria Cougars own the Western Hockey League's record for shutout—182 minutes, 29 seconds.

Victory boosted the Royals into fourth place in the Western Division, one point ahead of Spokane Flyers, beaten for the sixth straight time last night when Winnipeg Warriors handed them a 5-3 defeat on Spokane ice.

Max McNab and Gordie Fashaway, two of the Royals' real veterans, led them last night with two goals each. Gordie Sinclair, taking a pass from Guyle Fielder, prevented a Seattle shutout.

Right Theme, Wrong Game

ELE MOUNTAIN, Wyo. (AP)—High school coach Frank Bonds stormed into the team dressing room after a sloppy practice session.

"Fellas, if we're going to win ball games, you've got to think football, eat football, sleep football," Bonds proclaimed. "One player looked up. 'But coach, this is basketball,' he said."

Bud Poile Barked, Don Poile Listened

SASKATOON—Apparently that blast Edmonton Flyers' manager Bud Poile levelled at his players the other day is doing some good. Poile even included his own brother, Don, in his threat to make heads roll and "beaver," as he's sometimes known, responded with a will here last night as the Flyers downed the Quakers, 5-2, in an eastern division WHL game.

Don assisted on the first four Edmonton goals in a sparkling performance. Centre Jerry Melnyk scored three for Edmonton, Frank Roggeveen and Murray Oliver adding singletons.

TWO FOR McLEOD
Playing-coach Jackie McLeod tallied both the Quaker goals, on assists by Max Bentley and Dave Balon.

The first period ended 1-1 but Edmonton took a 4-2 lead at the end of the second period. They were able to keep their first-place margin on the prairies at five points with the victory.

Two Edmonton players, Eddie Diachuk and Brian Smith, left the game with knee injuries. Extent of their injuries was not determined.

Action was fast, with the Royals holding the upper hand as they peppered teammate Bev Bentley with 42 shots while limiting Seattle marksmen to 19 shots on rookie goalkeeper Don Campbell.

WINNING START

At Spokane, two second-period goals proved the difference as the Warriors began their first invasion of the Western Division with a win. Flyers, led by Bev Bell, who scored twice and set up the other goal for his club, twice got within a goal in the third period but rookie Gerry Brisson restored the two-goal margin each time.

Sailors Still Unbeaten In Commercial Loop

Navy ran its undefeated streak to four games with a 7-3 win over Army last night.

In spite of the one-sided score, Navy had its hands full with the scrappy Army team before finishing with a rush in the third period. Meanwhile, Victoria Vics won their second straight game, 6-2, over Shell Aces, to take over second place and stay within three points of the Sailors.

Army, taking more than its share of the play but lacking finish around the net, stayed within one goal of Navy until the start of the third period. Then the Sailors rapped in four goals with only one reply.

Cliff Uhren scored a hat trick for the second straight time to lead Navy. Joe Tanner, Neil Standley, Paul LaPoint and Bob Cook each scored once, and Standley drew three assists. Ashworth scored two of Army's goals and Larsen got the other.

An indication of the play turned up in the statistics. Navy had 30 shots, Army 23. In the opener, Vics took advantage of almost every opportunity to get the win and break their second-place deadlock with the Aces.

TWO HURT
Art Green and Toby Wilson scored twice for Vics, with single goals going to Don Paulin and Keith Lawrence. Sjoborg and Bob Jones tallied for Aces.

Taylor Rink Defeated

Consoles Battle Roars

A real battle was shaping up last night in the seven-rink playoff at the Victoria-Curling Club to decide the two rinks which will compete in the Vancouver Island Console zone final.

Tony Gutoski, last season's B.C. champion and back with the same rink which played in the Canadian championships here last March, had a 2-0 record, was well on his way to a third win last night, and seemed a reasonable certainty for one spot.

But the second spot is wide open. Gar Taylor had his record balanced at 1-1 when he was beaten in last night's first draw, 12-11, by Elmer Hoffman in a 13-ender. Trailing, 4-0, after two ends and 8-5 after seven ends, Hoffman went two up on the 11th with a three-ender. Taylor tied it on the 12th, but Hoffman made good use of his last rock on the 13th, drawing up to an opposition stone in the four-foot ring to count the winner.

Victory gave Hoffman a 2-3 record. Also tied for second place in the round-robin series, on the basis of only having lost once, was Wes Young's RCN entry. Young drew a by in last night's first draw and went into the late game against Taylor with a 1-1 showing.

Esquimalt Achieves Jackson Cup Final

Esquimalt skidded to a berth in the finals of the Jackson Cup soccer competition yesterday, edging Hecanys, 1-0, at Royal Athletic Park in a game played in weather better suited to bob-sledding.

Centre forward George Adams scored the winning goal at the 30-minute mark of the second half. The rest of the time both teams had to concentrate on just keeping upright.

A crowd of about 100 braved the weather for the semi-final. Esquimalt meets either Canadian Scottish or Victoria Kickers, who play their semi-final next Saturday at Royal Athletic Park at 2 p.m.

Sharp Bowling England's Answer

BRISBANE, Australia, Reuters. — Crick bowling on an excellent pitch in a sweltering heat forced England back into the game Saturday on the second day of the first cricket test against Australia.

At the end of Saturday's play the score was 156 for Australia in reply to 148 for England.

Faced with the task of restoring the balance after a day's cheap dismissal, England succeeded by the excellent work of their fast bowlers and by tight and sharp fielding. A fast bowler, who was dismissed and at the same time 22 runs on with four wickets in hand.

This Rocket Flies True

PAWBUCKET, R.I. (UPI) —The army's moon rocket didn't make it Saturday but the race horse did.

Vict to Moon, guided by jockey Dean Sheppard, was third on schedule in the night race at Narragansett Park Saturday, winning the mile-and-70-yard event over Honest Doc and Jet Era.

It was the second straight victory for Vict to Moon, a two-year-old daughter of Sylvania — by Air. She paid $11.40.

Stan Bell Lane Leader

Stan Bell took over leadership in the championship "howling" competition at Capital City Bowling Alleys yesterday, rolling a 735 series to beat out three other finalists from a field of 12.

C. V. Vines was second with 731 followed by Harry Smith at 699 and defend champion, Don McElroy at 684.

To reach the finals, 12 bowlers had to roll 180 or better in the first round.

Victory over the Braves yesterday kept the Royals in front of the Braves in the National League standings.

Gary Day, fired four hits yesterday, to lead the Royals to a 4-1 victory over Boston, on their way to the playoffs. The Royals, who were defeated by the Yankees in the first round of the playoffs, are now in the second round.

In other games yesterday, the Yankees defeated the Red Sox, 4-1, and the Dodgers defeated the Giants, 4-1. The Braves defeated the Pirates, 4-1, and the Cardinals defeated the Cubs, 4-1.

Remember When:

Fritz Hanson's great running sparked a Winnipeg Blue Bomber team that scored the first Grey Cup triumph for Western Canada 23 years ago yesterday at Hamilton. It was a Hanson run of 78 yards that led to the clinching touchdown in the third quarter as Winnipeg won by a final score of 14-12.

Tooting and Mitcham Pulls Upset

'Amateurs Day' Overseas

LONDON (Reuters) — Three little-known teams rose up Saturday to make life miserable for the full-time professionals in England's big soccer elimination tournament — the FA Cup.

Tooting and Mitcham, a South London team that plays strictly for fun, dented professional Northampton 2-1 in one of the biggest upsets of the day. Another, non-league team, semi-pro Worcester, had looted fourth-division Millwall

Colonist Sounded Warning

Reciprocity Vital Issue

RECIPROCITY between Canada and the United States might have cost this country its independence.

THE WAS the word the Colonist took to lead its editorial. And it was not without reason. After the war, the only serious consideration was that of the British ambassador to Washington, who, apparently on the advice of his London principals, had encouraged a treaty of reciprocity.

But in May, 1859, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, then a young man, had written William Howard Russell, then the president of the Colonist, that he had been discussing the question of reciprocity with a view to the United States. The Colonist, in reply, had written: "This was in the nature of an expressive statement. It was not a declaration of policy."

The newspaper took comfort from the fact that 175 of 211 members elected to Ottawa in 1861 were opposed to reciprocity. It said President Taft had been shown to be an enemy of Canada while posing as an friend in the international liberalization of trade.

"We do not care as a rule to be the straw . . . The Colonist said on May 12, 1861. . . when the reciprocity negotiations were initiated, we took the position that whatever might be said for or against free trade between the United States and Canada would be a mistaken policy for this country to tie itself to its neighbor."

The newspaper took comfort from the fact that 175 of 211 members elected to Ottawa in 1861 were opposed to reciprocity. It said President Taft had been shown to be an enemy of Canada while posing as an friend in the international liberalization of trade.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN

reciprocity always seemed to call for some explanation. "We know now that what he aimed at was the destruction of the financial and commercial independence of Canada."

It was not necessary to discuss whether or not, if the reciprocity had accepted the tariff of the United States, the tariff of the United States would have been realized. That is not material to the case at all. The success of the Liberals last September would have meant that Canada would have been tied to a country whose policy was hostile to the continued existence of Canada.

November 18, 1861, the Colonist said: "The tariff of the United States would have been realized. That is not material to the case at all. The success of the Liberals last September would have meant that Canada would have been tied to a country whose policy was hostile to the continued existence of Canada."

Cutler's Pig . . .

WAR at the DOOR!

IN 1859 Great Britain might very easily have been dragged into a war with the United States by a pig.

On July 27, Capt. George Pickett, with 60 men, landed from Fort Bellingham with orders to protect American citizens from "the northern Indians of British Columbia" and "to resist all attempts at interference by the British authorities residing on Vancouver's Island, by intimidation or force" with the rights of Americans on San Juan.

Two days later, James Douglas called upon the British authorities at Fort Bellingham. He was told that the British authorities were not to interfere with the Americans. He was told that the British authorities were not to interfere with the Americans.

Get-Out-Vote Stunt Snarls Traffic

Jaycee Comics Irk Police

A "detachment" of Jaycees dressed as comic policemen in varied downtown streets yesterday in a get-out-the-vote stunt and aroused the ire of the real police by snarling traffic.

One motorcycle policeman among a number of officers called to get peeved motorists on their way was handed a "parking" ticket by the Jaycees.

The cavorting 'cops' passed out 2,000 tickets pointed "back Yourself in a Parking Spot." The 11" between 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. on the Victoria Island Chamber of Commerce's slogan "Get out the Vote" campaign.

At one point they snarled traffic a block from city police headquarters and then went through the jammed cars handing out tickets.

The route covered included First Street, Douglas, Yates and Bland and a number of parking lots.

16 Meter Violations Bring $40 in Fines

Parking meter violations—16 of them dating back to early October—cost a Langford man $40 with $5 costs in Victoria police court yesterday.

Clarence E. Mitten pleaded guilty to all the charges before Magistrate Henry Hall. The charges were read separately.

Accidents Send Many To Hospital

More snow and freezing temperatures were forecast for VICTORIA Vancouver Island this weekend.

There was no immediate prospect of letup.

At least six police cars were called for assistance of motorists and traffic snarled yesterday by slushy and icy roads.

RASH ACCIDENTS

A rash of accidents was reported from Victoria and nearby areas. In each case, the driver was charged with careless driving.

On the northern section of the Main Highway, two cars were involved in a collision. One car was driven out of control and into a ditch.

Two women are in hospital as a result of the accident.

COMPOUND FRACTURE

Mrs. Jean Margaret Campbell, 45, of Victoria, suffered a compound fracture of her right arm when she fell from a car.

A police officer said she was driving on a residential street when she lost control of the car.

She is in good condition in a hospital.

MINOR CUTS

Eleventh Avenue McDonald, H.M.S. Nelson, escaped with minor cuts and bruises when his car skidded off the road.

He was taken to hospital for treatment of his injuries.

A series of accidents in the city and on the highway were caused by icy roads.

More transportation accidents were reported.

Freezing rain is forecast for sections of eastern Vancouver Island this morning and the afternoon.

No serious pile-ups were reported.

Herded Babes to Safety, Called Firemen to Scene

DR. BROCK CHISHOLM

A baby-sitter who smelled smoke and saw flames break through the livingroom wall of a Victoria home last night, called firemen to the scene in time to prevent serious damage.

Sixteen-year-old Audrey Macdonald, of 4886 West Saanich Road, was alone with three young children when fire broke out in the large living room at 2:30 p.m. yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sie were present at the time of the fire. Mrs. Sie was attending a dance and did not learn of the fire until long after it was extinguished.

Cause of the fire was believed to be a small section of burning furniture in the living room. The fire had been smoldering for some time.

The baby-sitter herded the children—Sharon, 6, Barry, 4, and Dale, 2, to safety until the fire threat was ended.

Dr. Chisholm's Comment

Color Bias Here World in Nutshell

Treatment shown a 28-year-old East Indian man in Victoria this week is a distillation of one of the main problems threatening the peace of the world, Dr. Brock Chisholm said yesterday.

Spokesman for the Victoria Jaycees who took up the case for Ajai Bawa, of Punjab, after he was refused tenancy of a Westall Street home said he was still looking for a Victoria house this weekend but had received "a number of offers."

"The responsibilities in this modern world are across racial and color and creed," Dr. Chisholm said. "The help offered by many Victoria people should be the trend between nations."

"I think the important thing is that although there are some who are very undeveloped and immature there were many people who showed their maturity in helping him."

Canadian-born Bawa was refused rental of the Westall Avenue house when some nearby residents complained to the landlord.

"We want to show the B.C. Electric that the public is backing us 100 per cent," Mr. Hamilton said.

Public Support Sought

Silver Threads Services has decided to seek support of public opinion in its efforts to get bus passes for pensioners.

Glen Hamilton, executive director, said last night Silver Threads will invite all organizations in favor of the project to write to headquarters on 1851 Cook Street.

Holiday Season Is Party Time

Plenty of Good Food Will Put You in Mood

At this time of year hostesses are keeping an eye out for good food suitable for parties. As well as delicious to eat it must be beautiful on display. If you don't tell your guests they'll never know that Chanilly orange cake, pictured below, didn't need much to account for its popularity. The cake can be made with any variety of fruit filling, but the orange fluff icing pictured here is a real hit.

Chantilly Orange Cake Filling

- 1 cup heavy cream
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/2 cup orange zest
- 1/2 cup orange slices, peeled and cut into 1/4 inch slices
- 1/2 cup orange slices, peeled and cut into 1/4 inch slices

1. Whip cream to stiff peaks. 2. Add sugar and orange juice. 3. Beat until mixture is thick. 4. Add orange zest. 5. Fold in orange slices. 6. Use as filling for cake.

Holly Bazaar Nets $800

There was a holly bazaar at the Protestant Orphanage yesterday and everyone had a good time including the children.

The youngsters had their own fish pond where they could try their luck for five cents, and they "helped" at other stalls too, especially the one where the children's "poppets" stood and gazed longingly.

Cedar and of course holly decorated the big home and every room was filled with ladies buying up home cooking.

garden produce, candy, aprons, knit-wear and superfluities.

Mrs. T. de Faye opened the affair where guests were welcomed by the president, Mrs. C. H. Nelson and the incoming president, Miss Diane Cox. Mrs. Helen Chamberlain was the general convener.

The work of the home was realized for the tea was convened by Miss Anne Adamson, Mrs. B. Whitehead, Mrs. M. Summer-Hazeldine and Miss Helen Feidts, Mrs. Mary Tapp, Mrs. Mavis Sturdy and Miss Pat Wright.

101 TRUCKS AND TRAILERS

TRIANGLE TRAILER SALES LTD.

We are celebrating our 3rd anniversary in the mobile home business. To celebrate this occasion and help make it possible for customers wanting to get into a trailer for Xmas, we will give a 10% REDUCTION on any trailer on our lot up to Dec 20th.

WE WILL ALSO HAND ANY BUYER A $50 BILL FOR A HAPPY CHRISTMAS

Satisfied customers are our best advertisement and we have lots of them. Our customers are our friends and many have had repeat dealings with us. We can't help but notice also that we are selling many mobile homes to purchasers who bought their first one elsewhere. We sincerely appreciate this customer confidence.

WE HAVE BEEN OFFERING 1959 MODELS FOR THE PAST 2 MONTHS ALL 1958 NEW MODELS GONE LONG AGO!

Rita Del Mar's Daily Astrology

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1958

Today's Quotation: "And fear not lest Existence closing your Account should lose or know the type no more; The Eternal Sakl from that Bowl has poured Millions of Bubbles like us and will pour."

Omar Khayyam.

Sunday for Everyone: The day tends somewhat to confusion, forgetfulness, snap judgment. Others can offer you counsel that will enable you to see things more clearly if you mull it over carefully.

Look for Your Birthdate and Birthsign Below

Let's talk REAL ESTATE

By Jack Mears

Everyone in Victoria knows the Kwanish Village at Cedar Hill Road and on Tuesday evening it seemed as if everyone knew all about it and appreciated what was being done.

Community in the Kwanish Village was a real estate project which I was covering in the past. It was a project which I was covering in the past. It was a project which I was covering in the past.

With the granting of a license to the Kwanish Village, the project will be a real estate project which I was covering in the past. It was a project which I was covering in the past.
